GREETINGS AND FAREWELLS

We are very pleased to welcome new residents to the Croft on Home Lane. Annesofie (Sophy) Andersson and Lasse Surland are originally from Copenhagen in Denmark, but they have been living in London since 2010.

Lasse runs (with two of his friends) a company called Football Radar up in London. They work with analysis and statistics on football (you can find more info on their website: www.footballradar.com).

Sophy makes fine furniture. She recently finished a year's training in a workshop/school near Shebbear and now works in a shared workshop space in Bideford mainly doing her own designs.

They both fell in love with Lee (as well as North Devon) last year during Sophy's training and say they can't believe how lucky they are to now be part of, in their own words, 'this magical place'.

We don't know of any other changes, but, as always, we apologise for any omissions of arrivals or departures. Please let us know and we shall rectify things next time.

THE EXMOOR CAROLERS RETURN THIS CHRISTMAS

Many of you will remember the Exmoor Carolers' visits to Lee a few years ago, both to perform publicly and then to record their music in the Memorial Hall. The group performs a selection of traditional carols that have been sung in villages all across north Devon and Somerset, many of which go back centuries.

I was fortunate enough to be invited to join the Carolers in 2014, making this my third year.

The Carolers are in great demand over the Christmas period, and this year will be performing eight concerts from the end of November up to Christmas eve.

One of these will be in Emmanuel Church, Wilder Road, Ilfracombe starting at 8.00pm on Saturday 17th December. If you would like to hear their music again (or even for the first time!) and hear a little on the carol singing traditions of Exmoor, then make a note in your diary to come along.

NEWS FROM ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH

As usual, the summer has seen many visitors to the church with frequent comments in the visitors' book about the church's charm and peacefulness. It is good that the church is open thanks to Louise who opens the church whenever her gallery and craft shop is open.

The Harvest Festival service and supper were very successful. The large congregation of over 70, including the choir and many young people, enjoyed a lively service with Geoff Hills' talk being a particular highlight. His interpretation of the story of the Good Samaritan using green, red and yellow peppers will be long remembered!

I am writing these notes at the end of September, but, by the time they are read, two important events will have started. On Sunday 9 October, at the usual service time of 8.45 am, the first of our monthly 'All-Age' service will have taken place. As its name implies, it aims to provide something new for everyone. Its style is relatively informal in straightforward language to appeal to younger people but with a firm structure and much substance to appeal to all ages. Each month there will be a theme to the service. The theme of the first service was 'Friendship and Marriage'. The second of these monthly services will be on Remembrance Sunday (November 13) so the theme will be 'Remembrance'. Everyone is most welcome to these services which will be on the second Sunday of each month. They will be followed by tea, coffee and soft drinks in the Memorial Hall. The regular communion service will, of course, continue on other Sundays at 8.45 am. After the service on Remembrance Sunday, there will be an Act of Remembrance at the War Memorial, including the reading of the names of those from the village who gave their lives in both world wars and two minutes' silence. It is always a moving occasion when traffic stops on the road and the valley is still.

The second event is the implementation of the new lighting and heating scheme for the church. I have referred in previous editions of the News of the Church Council's wish to replace the old fashioned and uninspiring lighting and heating with a lighting scheme that enhances the ambience of the church and a heating scheme that provides an evenly warm church throughout the winter. The Diocese of Exeter has now approved the scheme which will permit attractive variations in the lighting and the highlighting of key features. The ugly and intrusive heaters are being replaced by neat underpew heaters which will give off an even heat at ground level which should warm feet rather than heads! Work should have started at the beginning of October and should be completed, apart from some necessary redecoration, by the end of October.

Thoughts will soon be turning to Christmas when there will be the usual village Carol Service and the Christmas Communion service. The village Carol Service will be on Monday 19 December at 6.30 pm, followed by seasonal refreshments in the Memorial Hall, and the Christmas Eve service, with the singing led by the choir, will be at its usual time of 10.00 pm, this year on Sunday 24 December. However, before the main Christmas events, St Matthew's is very pleased to be the venue on two other occasions. On Sunday 4 December at 7.30 pm, Beaford Arts is promoting 'Black Voices'. There is extensive publicity around the village, but, to quote some of the publicity, Black Voices are 'simply the most exciting and finest exponents of female acappella singing'. For further information and tickets, contact Kate Madden on 01271 865591. Then on Monday 12 December, North Devon Hospice will hold one of its 'Light up a Light' services in the church at 6.30 pm, followed by refreshments in the Memorial Hall. Each year, the Hospice holds a number of similar services around North Devon to provide opportunities for anyone to remember loved ones and to light a candle in their memory. The Hospice cordially invites you to this short and simple service.

THE TRAIL FROM IVY BANK TO THE BLUE MUSHROOM

My first experience of Lee was in about 1988, although my wife Jackie had been on numerous occasions in earlier years.

From that first visit which was to the chalets above Ivy bank, we fell in love with what we call our second home. Many holidays were spent up above Ivy Bank, sometimes we would take the cottage as well, happy if what sometimes were damp times, June being a favorite for the most rainy of holidays. Each time we would arrive to be greeted by Mrs Race who would break herself away from the tennis to relate to us that the previous week had been gorgeous. Hasten to say the following week the precipitation was in abundance.

1991 was one such damp year, having got married on the longest day June 21st, I hastily rang the Post Office in Lee for any accommodation which could be booked, finally we managed to book in at The Old Vicarage, which then did bed and breakfast, that year was the first when Wimbledon was played on the middle Sunday, which came to be known as people's Sunday. The sound of Annie Lennox could be heard from the car tape, "Here Comes The Rain Again".

All this leads me onto the fact that this year was our Silver Wedding Anniversary, all plans for the yearly pilgrimage were blown apart by Jackie's unfortunate stay in hospital at the beginning of the year. Not knowing the outcome and life limitations that we would be faced with we have had a Summer of adapting to our new life.

We have greatly missed our trip, over the years we have arrived with our dogs, initially our Red Setter and all our other dogs over the years have enjoyed the bay, three Cavaliers and now our Border Terrier, "Alfie".

For self catering reasons and also our dog and dogs, the accommodation we have stayed in has been always fantastic. From those early days at The Chalets and Woodstock, to the holiday lets where the tea rooms were to one year at Summer Haze. Then in about 2005 we took "Brookdale" for sometimes two weeks and if I recall occasionally three weeks split outside of the school holidays.

As with all good things, they come to an end. In search of other accommodation we found a nice idyllic spot, one year Damage Hue and then for the last three years "The Blue Mushroom".

So, all in all, we have had - over the last 27 years - great times, most of the time spent talking with people, enjoying the various guises that the Grampus has been, seen the hotel open then close then open and now left abandoned.

Evenings spent with Bob and Elizabeth at the Old Post Office are fond memories. Trips to Squires and seeing the changes in Lee and beyond always made us smile. Verity and the changing appearance of Ilfracombe. The Harvest Festivals, hog roasts and ferret racing amongst other village activities. Our visits back to Brookdale to see Alan and Margaret when we were staying in Lee were always looked forward to.

2016 will be a gap in our calendar, Jackie whilst can comfort eat has relatively no absorption due to chronic intestinal failure. This means having to have bespoke nutritional bags which are infused directly into one of the main veins into the heart.

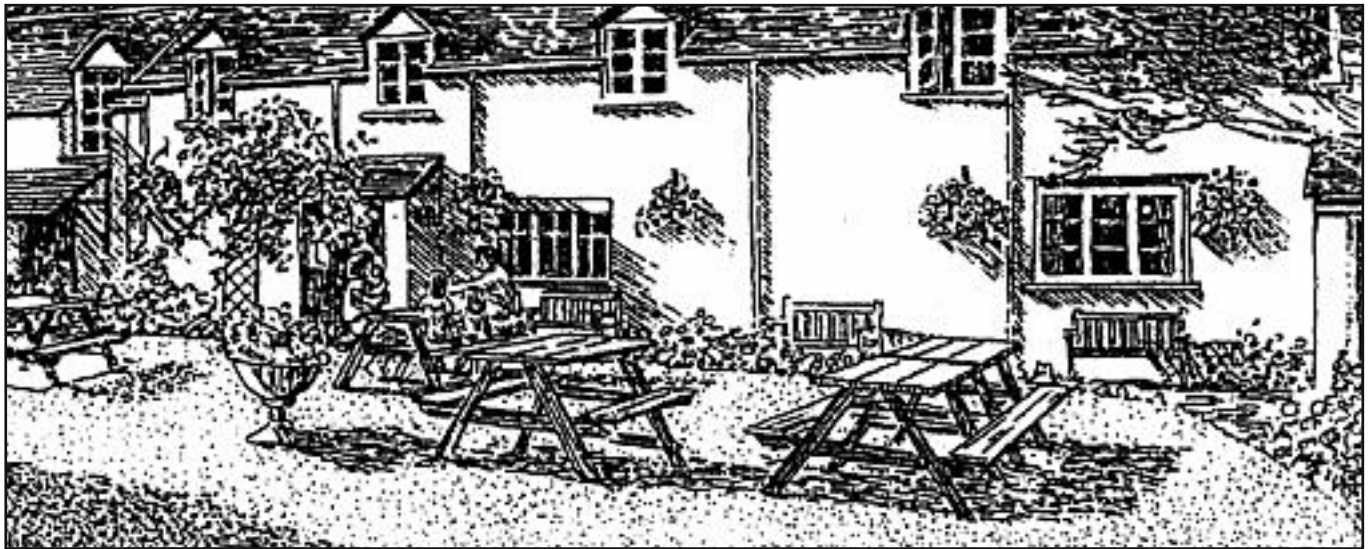

There are many ways to skin a rabbit, we are making small steps and larger strides are happening.

We haven't forgotten about Lee, we hope Lee hasn't forgotten us. 2017 is our goal.

To all we have met over the years through staying in Lee, thanks for our memories.

Mark and Jackie Oldham and Alfie, from Nottingham.

NEWS FROM THE GRAMPUS INN

Hello Friends,

The verandah has proved very popular with both the public & our staff who enjoy having breakfast outside but with the benefit of shelter from both wind & showers. The solar powered lights are both decorative & effective.

Another "first" from Louis' wine list - a Pinot Noir, again from the Finger Lakes area of the USA from the Forge winery. The Coravin Sytem used in The Grampus enables customers to sample any of Louis' superb wines without having to buy a whole bottle until they know which delicious one to choose. For those who haven't seen it in action, the Coravin apparatus inserts a hypodermic needle through the cork, inert gas is pumped into the bottle as the wine flows out into your glass. As the wine in the bottle is not exposed to air by this method, it is unaffected by it.

Specials on the menu at the moment are Lamb Tagine, Smoked Haddock & Plaistow Trout Chowder & Clam Chowder. From our inspirational Mexican cook, Yvi, comes Chilli Con Carne, Guacamole, & Mexican Flan.

Soon we shall be welcoming back Helen, another enthusiastic cook who is already dreaming up new specials, especially desserts, with which to tempt you.

Friday Music Nights are always very popular and we have amazing stories of the distance some folk travel to join us.

Agnostics Anonymous meets every month....on an irregular Monday; please enquire which one!

We look forward to welcoming you.

LEE MEMORIAL HALL UPDATE

Our village hall has been used extensively throughout the summer months with the usual regular bookings drawing to a close during July, followed by the annual Lee Village Flower Show and the Arts and Crafts fair.

Once again we had a very successful Arts and Crafts Fair during August with a wonderful and colourful display of many different crafts. These included beautiful handmade glass decorations, wonderful felt pictures, exquisite needlework and patchwork, handmade cards, cushions, tea light holders created from old wooden barrels and sweet smelling soaps as well as delightful artwork all created by local artists. A lovely patchwork quilt created by the Fuchsia Valley Quilters was the first prize in the raffle and there were other prizes kindly donated by local people. Delicious refreshments were on offer every day throughout the fair which involved a great many helpers who gave their time to bake scrumptious home made cakes as well as helping in the kitchen.

The fair was well attended with 1868 visitors raising £3,939 for the hall funds – a fantastic result! In addition Margaret Hill has very generously donated the proceeds of all of her beautiful patchwork and quilts towards the purchase of a new piano for the hall so a special thank you to Margaret. Also a huge thank you to everyone who contributed towards the success of this annual event, the visitors, the crafters, the cooks, the kitchen helpers and those who were involved in the organisation – we are very grateful to you all for all of your hard work in making this another wonderful fair. A selection of photographs from the fair appear opposite.

Over the summer we have started to use the resource group from Ilfracombe that have been looking after the church grounds, to help with the gardening jobs at the hall and meadow. We've had a couple of sessions so far and noticed the improvements.

Recently the hall was the venue for another lovely supper after the Harvest Festival, the food being sourced from predominately local providers.

During the summer the hall has staged a summer ceilidh with M'Larkey, been used as a polling station for the EU referendum, a number of meetings and parties and a wedding reception.

A small theatre company is putting on an interactive play on November 19th. For more details please see the entry from the Lee Village Arts Group.

Very recently we have had it confirmed that the hall has passed its renewal of the Hallmark 2 check, which is a quality standard for Devon's community buildings. A new certificate will be displayed shortly.

Just to remind you that we are always looking for pictures for our Facebook page so if you have had, or are planning an event in the hall we would love to include these.

Jane Johncock, Secretary

LEE VILLAGE ARTS GROUP

We have two very exciting shows coming to the village this autumn, which both sound absolutely perfect for our venues! On Saturday 19th November we welcome Pentabus theatre who are touring a show set in, and telling the story of, a community hall – just like ours! Here I Belong, written by Matt Hartley is about village halls, community spirit and growing old.

It's Elsie's birthday. You are invited to your local village hall to celebrate. Elsie has lived here for 60 years, she has seen elections, weddings, wars, people coming, people going. The village is where her daughter grew up, it's where her husband died and it's where she's going to stay. Travel through time from 1953 to the present day and see how Elsie and her community change. The play is a sensitive, charming and honest portrayal about village life and the right to grow old in your own home. Elsie's story is told over four scenes. The first set in 1953, as she decorates her village hall in preparation for the coronation party. The second in 1979, on the eve of the general election. Then after the interval it's 1996 and the hall turns into the venue for a wake for Elsie's husband. And the final scene is set now, as she asks the village to come together to celebrate her 90th birthday. It promises to be an uplifting night out.

Tickets are available from The Grampus 01271 862 906 at £7.50 Ad. £5.00 Ch. £22.50 Family. Grampus Pot Luck Supper also available for £5.

Our second show is brought to us by Beaford Arts and is a, not to be missed, evening with Black Voices performing for us in the lovely St Matthews Church.

Widely acclaimed as Europe's leading acappella quintet, Black Voices have been wowing global audiences for over two decades with their unique repertoire of music and performance in the black oral tradition.

Filling international concert venues across the world with their intricate and soul stirring harmonies – from spirituals and traditional songs to jazz, modern and classical arrangements – Black Voices are simply the most exciting and finest exponents of female acappella singing.

After a sold-out run of North Devon performances in Spring 2016, Beaford were very lucky to get them back for another 3 dates this Advent and we in Lee equally so to beat off stiff competition to have them come to perform in our beautiful church. They are performing at 7.30pm on Sunday 4th December. Drinks will be available in the hall from 7.00pm - Contact Kate : 01271 865591 for tickets at £10. The Grampus will be doing a pot luck supper from 6.00pm for £5, contact them direct 862906. Don't miss this concert, I saw them last time round and they were, quite simply, brilliant!

Thanks for your continued support for the arts in rural communities and we look forward to seeing you at these events!

LEE VILLAGE FLOWER SHOW

I think we have to start by saying a huge THANKYOU to everyone who supported the Flower Show this year, it was a very big success, with a total of 427 entries, one of our highest, so well done everyone. We had 100 entries in the handicraft section and 49 in the childrens section so an excellent effort by all. The exhibits were outstanding with fierce competition between exhibitors, all in good fun of course, but never the less very competitive! Can I also just thank Lucy Scarrott who for her first year entering the show, put in so much effort and really worked very hard, particularly with all her handicraft, a very big well done, and a pat on the back for Mum, who had to contend with all the family getting involved, and 5 in the kitchen, quite a stressful time, I'm sure, but much appreciated.

| Challenge Cup             | Ginny Potts                             |

Also well worth a mention, Paul Scarrott won the Chocolate Cake entry in the 'Men Only' domestic section, recipe by the Hairy Bikers. Very well done, very impressive! So watch out for next year's cooking delight, we just hope the ladies' kitchens weren't in too much of a mess that all men will be banned!

Col Bob Gilliat presented the cups this year, so a very big thank you to him as well. Long may all the entries continue and the competition.

The Sunflower Competition, proved a great talking point among us all, with some flowering in August and having to be measured earlier than others, but our winners are Tom and Edna Thompson, after it nearly escaped through their greenhouse roof measuring a whacking 9ft 10ins. Help was required to stop this giant, which had to be cut down to get it out! They received a very nice bottle of wine for all their efforts, and we mustn't forget to mention Pat and Ged coming second with a hefty 9ft 7ins, only 3ins in it.

Autumn seems to be jumping upon us all too quickly with leaves dropping from the trees and our gardens needing a really good tidy up, so tips from the RHS this month:

1. Divide herbaceous perennials
2. Pick Autumn raspberries
3. Collect and sow seed from perennials and hardy annuals
4. Dig up remaining potatoes before slug damage spoils them
5. Net ponds before leaf fall gets underway
6. Keep up with watering of new plants, using rain or grey water if possible
7. Start to reduce the frequency of house plant watering
8. Clean out cold frames and greenhouses so that they are ready for use in the autumn
9. Cover leafy vegetables with bird proof netting
10. Plant spring flowering bulbs

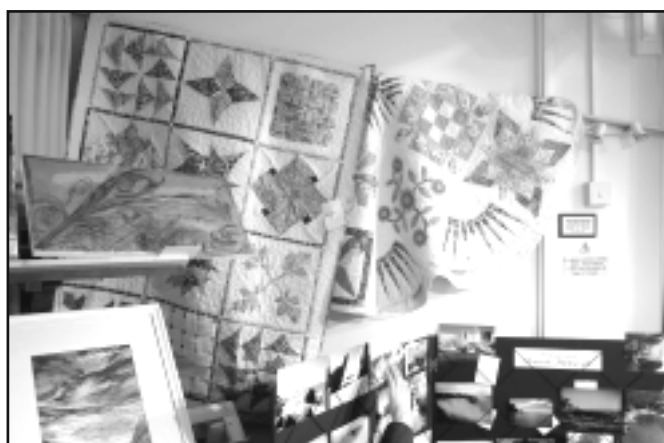

Our next event will be the Coffee Morning in May next year, so please look out for that date, always nice to catch up with friends to have a natter and put the world to rights. Remember to put out your bird feeders for the winter. Enjoy the photographs opposite - taken by Edna Thompson and me. Until next time.

LEE & LINCOMBE NEIGHBOURHOOD WATCH UPDATE

Your NHW is alive and well, and seeks your continued support. Our remit is to look out for each other to keep the villages safe. The co-ordinators are Paul Scarrott (864723), Ian Stuart (863396), and Mavis Rogers (862947).

Update: Crime and antisocial behaviour remain low. Over the last 12 months there have been reports of: thefts from the beach, burglary of tools and equipment from outbuildings, criminal damage to building furniture, noisy parties/music, fly tipping and identity fraud. We will let you know via the Fuchsia List if anything happens, and provide advice when it does.

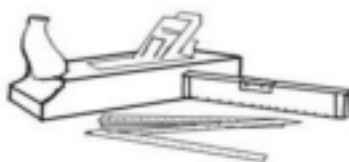

Police: We maintain a good working relationship with the Ilfracombe West Neighbourhood Policing Team. They have patrolled in response to incidents, updated us on crime trends, and held a joint exercise in Lee; in return we provide information and assisted with the filming of a documentary on Coastal Policing.

Crime Prevention: Please lock outbuildings where tools or other valuables are stored; install security lighting at vulnerable sites; mark your tools with the post code in indelible ink. Incidents can be reported to Crimestoppers, 101, the Neighbourhood Police Team, NHW and 999 (in emergency). Don't be a victim to cybercrime and never give your personal and bank details away over the phone. We will fix new NHW signs in Lincombe and in Home Lane.

Your role: there is one road in and out of Lee and Lincombe, so your eyes and ears are crucial in stopping and spotting criminals. So, if you see something report it, record it, and let your NHW know as appropriate. Remember to use the modern technology we all have at our disposal – the mobile phone with camera and video built in.

Paul Scarrott

AN EVENING OF THE BLUES - IN AID OF SYRIAN REFUGEES

Jim Crawford is something of an enigma. Originally from Lancashire, he now resides on the North Devon coast.

A shy and retiring man who readily admits that recording studios fill him with dread and that he'd rather go fishing with his dog for company, has, none the less, toured much of Europe and the USA captivating audiences with his intimate folk/blues style.

Softly spoken, Jim totally surprises his audience when he breaks into song with, as one reviewer put it "a richness of voice you can only be born with" and for years has been revered among professional musicians as a consummate finger picker and slide guitarist.

Join Jim at Lee Memorial Hall on Saturday 26 November from 8pm (for 8.30pm start) for a fantastic evening of stunning blues music.

Tickets are available from Paul Jagers (862975), only £5 in advance or £8 on the night.

The evening will be for the benefit of the Syrian refugees with all profits going via Doctors Sarah and Dominic Waddington of Lee.

PLEASE COME ALONG AND SUPPORT THIS WONDERFUL CAUSE!
