ANOTHER MUSICAL EVENING IN AID OF THE UKRAINIAN APPEAL

I'm delighted to announce another evening of musical entertainment in aid of Ukraine, featuring Jim Crawford and Lara Conley.

Lara and Jim (pictured) have both toured the festival and concert circuits for years as solo performers and have recently come to the conclusion that it might be a nice idea to actually work together.

Expect close harmonies, duo guitar arrangements with both original and cover material.

Further, I have been able to ask again Anya Job and Baz Bix (flautist and guitar) to start the evening.

This promises to be a special evening and I look forward to seeing you all.

The details:

Saturday November 19th. in Lee Memorial Hall, 7pm for 7.30. Tickets are £15, in advance from Paul Jagers (01271 862975) or pauljaggerstrom@btinternet.com

Please bring your own refreshments.

If you are unable to attend but would wish to make a donation, it will be included in the final amount.

Our last evening raised just in excess of £1,000.

Many thanks in advance to you all.

GREETINGS AND FAREWELLS

We are very pleased to welcome new owners of Cedra who moved in a few months ago after Helen Ellis left the village.

Toby Johnson and Tabby Campbell, with their dog, Teddy, are both doctors and have moved from Bristol. They are working at North Devon District Hospital. Both of them had a recent spell in A & E, but Toby is now training in anaesthetics and Tabby is undertaking GP training at present. They are enjoying living in the village, but they also enjoy getting away around the UK and Europe in Helga, a vintage campervan which they have restored. They look forward to getting to know many more people in the village.

NEWS FROM ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH

The period since the last edition of the Lee & Link'em News has been a significant one for a number of reasons.

Firstly, perhaps, the end of August marked the retirement of Rev. Giles King-Smith after 26 distinguished years as Vicar of our 3 parishes of Lee, Mortehoe and Woolacombe. He has been a shining example of commitment, energy, friendliness, good humour and all-round decency. He will be greatly missed. Several special services and other gatherings were suitable occasions to mark his retirement, but he will be greatly missed.

It is likely to be about a year before a new Vicar takes up their post and it will be a part time appointment. The process of making an appointment will start soon with a meeting with the Archdeacon of Barnstaple on November 1st at St Sabinus Church, Woolacombe, at 7.00 pm. It is a meeting for Church Council members, members of the congregations of the 3 churches but also for anyone who is interested, so do come along if you wish. It is a meeting to reflect on the past and to begin shaping what the future should be. So the role and the person specification of the new Vicar will be an important part of the discussion at the meeting. A group will be appointed to take the process further, including drawing up a profile of the parishes, the role and person specification and leading to an advertisement for the post.

In the meantime, the churches continue to function effectively led by the Churchwardens. We are very fortunate that we have an associate priest, Rev. Ann Lewis, who is linked with our parishes. Ann will be taking most of the communion services, but, once a month, we have a small team who are planning and leading the service. This service normally takes place at 10.00 am on the second Sunday in the month. There is a theme to each service and, for example, the July service took place on Sea Sunday and was held on Lee beach. The August service had an environmental theme.

Normally, by this edition of the L & L News, I would be reporting about Harvest Festival. But, this year, at the time of writing, the Festival has not taken place. The celebration was planned for 18th September, but, sadly, this was the day before Queen Elizabeth's funeral. Quite properly it would have been inappropriate to have held the harvest celebration on the planned date. Because of clashes with other events in other churches, it was necessary to postpone Lee's Harvest Festival and Supper to 16th October. So you may be reading this either just before or just after the event! I can, however, report one very happy event which was the baptism of Bertie Stafford on August 14th. Bertie is the son of Sam and Emma Stafford and grandson of Greg and Anne Stafford. It's lovely to have 3 generations of the family living in the village.

St. Matthew's Church marked the death of the Queen in a number of ways. The Union flag was flown at half-mast throughout the period of mourning and the church bell was tolled at 12 noon on the date that bells throughout the country were rung. Special prayers were said at the Sunday service immediately following the Queen's death and the service ended with the singing of the National Anthem. The following Sunday – the day before the funeral – a joint commemorative service for the 3 parishes was held in St. Sabinus Church in Woolacombe. Throughout the period of mourning, a Book of Condolence was available in the church for anyone to put their names and, if desired, make comments. Over 120 names have been recorded in the Book.

As well as the special services already mentioned, some others are planned for the next few months.

Remembrance Sunday is always a very moving occasion in the life of the village in a service which includes the reading of the names of those who gave their lives in both World Wars and the two minute silence. This year, in the absence of the Vicar, the service will be led by the church's small team. There will be a short service in the church at 10.30 am leading to a gathering on the road by the war memorial for the Two-minute silence at 11.00 am and the reading of the names on the Memorial. Everyone is invited to the short service or just to the gathering around the memorial.

Then, of course, Christmas beckons in December. For the last two years, in response to Covid restrictions, we have held an outdoor carol event. These have been most successful, so we have decided to put on a similar event this year instead of a carol service in the church. The date for your diaries is Monday December 19th at 6.30 pm. We shall gather in the car-park by the Hall. After singing a number of carols, we shall process, singing as we go, to the area outside The Old Post Office. We shall sing some more carols there before returning to the Hall with one more carol. We shall then go into the Hall to enjoy refreshments kindly provided by the Hall committee. It should be a lovely village occasion!

On Christmas Eve at 10.00 pm, there will be a traditional Christmas service, with communion for those who wish, in St Matthew's Church. The singing will be led by the choir and it is always a fitting start to Christmas itself. As always, everyone is most welcome as you are to all services. The regular weekly services continue with a communion service at 8.45 am each Sunday except on the second Sunday in the month when a service of Morning Worship takes place at 10.00 am. There are two exceptions to this before Christmas. On October 30th, instead of the 8.45 service, there is a joint service for Lee, Mortehoe and Woolacombe at St Matthew's at 10.00 am, and on Remembrance Sunday, November 13th, the service starts at 10.30 am with a gathering at the War Memorial at 11.00 am.

ART & CRAFTS FAIR REPORT

At last we were able to hold our annual Arts and Crafts Fair this year - the last one was in 2019, and although we started planning to hold a fair in 2020, we made the decision that, due to the Covid-19 pandemic, it was not advisable both for the safety of our crafters and helpers and also for our visitors.

Our crafters didn't disappoint - we had seventeen having their own display and six local crafters who shared the community table, all bringing their beautiful work and taking their turn in sitting in on the sales table. There was a huge variety of crafts including colourful stained glass decorations, wood turned work, hand stitched pictures, funky earrings and necklaces, handcrafted jewellery made with semi-precious gemstones, beautiful needlework, artwork by several local artists including woodcuts, lino prints and watercolours, ceramics and much more so something for everyone. There was also a beautiful handmade quilt as first prize in the grand draw as well as many other items kindly donated by some of the exhibitors.

Every day there was a tempting spread of homemade cakes to be enjoyed with a cup of tea or coffee with the opportunity to take a break after shopping!

There are many people involved in organising and running this event so a huge THANKYOU to everyone who played a part as without all of our crafters, bakers, kitchen helpers and everyone else who helped it would not be possible to hold the fair which, this year, raised a fantastic £2426.53 towards maintaining our lovely Memorial Hall. Also 'thank you' to everyone who visited the fair - during the nine days we welcomed over 800 visitors!

OUR NEW FRIENDS AND FAMILY IN NORTH DEVON

Kate Is My Teacher

I first heard about Kate Madden from my sponsors, she supported us in organisational matters when we moved to England. I first saw her when we were together on our first trips to the Job Centre and the bank. But the real acquaintance happened when Kate offered to improve my English - she became my teacher here. It is always a pleasure to communicate with Kate, despite the language barrier, because she is a very friendly and amiable person.

She is proactive, foreseeing some awkward moments. She has an extremely high level of empathy. And as a result, there is no misunderstanding, which is really great. Kate has an excellent sense of humour! This character trait simply makes life better many times over. I also want to note that Kate's family is filled with kindness and love - this can be seen at first sight.

I can now say that after just a couple of English lessons our relationship turned into a friendship. I think I am very lucky that I have such a glorious friend, who can provide psychological support over morning coffee or resolve any other issue that arises.

Later I realised that Kate, while still my teacher, also provides support and help, which you do not expect or even guess about. The charity fundraiser was a complete surprise and a pleasant surprise for us, which was initiated and organised by Kate and her friends. This allowed me to take some driving lessons and visit the capital of Great Britain - I must also say many thanks to Maia for providing accommodation in London. And also this money gave me more opportunity to help people in Ukraine who need support.

I and my daughter are grateful to Kate and all her friends and acquaintances.

OUR NEW FRIENDS AND FAMILY IN NORTH DEVON, CONTD.

Jim and Jane - Our Great Sponsors

It is not typical for Ukrainians to have two names, indeed it is very rare to find a double surname. In our case, and this is our pride - we seem to have a second surname and this is the surname of our sponsors. Because when we get to know someone, we give our name and say who we live with. And this is Jane and Jim and we really feel like a part of this wonderful family.

We have been living here for about five months and we feel that the warmth of relations only increases every day. It's our very great luck for us to have met Jane and Jim. They have big hearts and souls, and their whole family is always very friendly, caring and kind and they are always in a good mood.

Our first meeting was online and during the month we were in Romania we felt supported every day. I remember Jim saying that when we got to their farm we would see what a beautiful and peaceful place it was and that it might help us get over the shock of the war a little. It turned out to be true - we saw wonderful views and felt comfortable and more at peace.

"What a lovely view, isn't it!" - these words Jane always says when we drive, and that is the real truth, the scenery here is divine. Now, whenever I see a beautiful sight, I hear Jane's voice in my head, full of admiration and genuine delight at the beauty of nature.

Jane is wonderful and wise, she immediately provided me with physical lessons, she knew it would have a good effect on my thinking and reset my brain. How right she was! Jane is full of energy and she is helping me learn to live life to the fullest! Even my daughter is in awe of Jane and says she is a good role model. Jane is also very brave because she decided to help me with driving here!

I really don't know how Jane and Jim do it, but we always get support and attention from them, more than we expect. There are not enough words to describe how grateful we are for everything they do for us. Once Jim told me about his father's words - this is profound wisdom - it is necessary to help other people and this action spreads throughout the world from one person to another. I would never have thought before that I might need such help but now I took up the torch from Jim and Jane.

Recently in the morning I found a heart woven from yellow and blue threads on the handle of the front door of our cottage. I still don't know who brought it to us, but it seems to me that this is a real symbol from all of you who help Ukraine. And your help touches to the depths of the soul and will remain in our hearts forever. I wish all the wonderful people that we have met in this country, happiness and peace.

LEE & LINCOMBE RESIDENTS' ASSOCIATION - AN UPDATE

Since the last meeting of the LLRA in 2019, the Committee lost many long-serving and valued members, which - combined with the pandemic - resulted in the Association needing a "re-boot" to enable it to continue to support our community and the villages.

A well-attended Extraordinary General Meeting of the Association on 1st September at the Memorial Hall saw broad agreement on the need for a collective village voice and for the Association to look again at how the terms of reference are interpreted, particularly following the success of the Association (lead by the previous Chairman, Secretary, Committee and many of the long-standing members) in ensuring that the plans for the hotel development are much more acceptable than any previous submission.

The next chapter in the hotel saga will be the commencement of work, with the need for the construction to be undertaken with consideration for the community and the villages. In this, it was felt the LLRA can perform a valuable role in liaising with the developers to ensure disruption is kept to a minimum and completed in line with the approvals they receive.

Beyond this pressing issue, the Membership agreed that there is much to do which does not currently fall under District or Ilfracombe Town Council (ITC) remits. It was acknowledged that although we benefit from having a well-connected and approachable Councillor as a neighbour, this shouldn't be taken for granted!

The LLRA have - throughout the pandemic - continued to liaise with ITC on ensuring the cleaning and sundries for the public toilets are provided for - something which will continue. Additional suggestions include repairing some of the old benches around the villages; supporting wildlife schemes, maintaining the defibrillator at the Grampus (for which the LLRA originally paid), continuing to monitor and tackle Japanese Knotweed and looking at schemes to improve the overall appeal and natural beauty of the place we are lucky enough to call home.

The meeting closed with a call for volunteers to form a new committee. The candidates were elected without objection and the LLRA Committee is now formed of:

Alan Bannister, David Biggerstaff, Enid Bowman, Matthew Dearden, Owen Rolfe, Martha Scarrott, Becca Wyles

The new Committee met on 23rd September and elected Matt as the new Chairman (with an offer from Alan Bannister to support in the role of Vice-Chairman). David Biggerstaff's offer to continue as Honorary Treasurer was gratefully accepted as was the offer by Becca Wyles to take on the role of Minutes Secretary (currently the Association does not have a permanent Honorary Secretary; the role will be taken up by members on a shared, case-by-case basis. Any queries may be directed to any Member of the Committee).

The Committee agreed to leave subscriptions at the 2019 rate of £5 per household and to ask Members to pay via Standing Order (details can be found at www.leeandlincombe.org.uk/subscribe

In terms of initial initiatives, the Committee agreed to make contact with Acorn Blue regarding a liaison role on the development; to develop a series of activities and events and to raise awareness of the Japanese Knotweed issue. The Committee will also seek out and share information on the National Trust and their plans for public areas as well as contacting the council about signage and road maintenance. The LLRA will also look at clearing areas which have become overgrown and to erect a permanent celebration of the accession of King Charles III.

More to follow on each of these points, which will require the support of the Membership to realise.

It should also be noted that the Committee were encouraged by - and grateful for - a substantial anonymous donation from a Member to support the Association's renewed efforts.

More detail can be found in the minutes of both meetings at www.leeandlincombe.org.uk/agendas-and-minutes

Patricia Ann Scott Seymour

11th October 1948 - 5th August 2022

Pat was born to parents Thomas and Mary Vere in East Ham, London on 11th October 1948. Pat was brought up in East Ham until the age of 11 years, when her parents moved to Barkingside, Essex.

Pat attended Fairlop secondary modern school for girls. This school had originally been a mixed school. However, when the schools split to become single sex schools, the boys were allocated the new school. This was indicative of the thinking in those days. Girls were to be housewives, nurses, cooks and secretaries, not scientists, engineers or business leaders! At school Pat became very proficient in home economics, shorthand and typing. She developed a love of music learning to play the flute and violin.

Her father was deputy insurance manager for ABC Cinemas and had designed the first insurance policy for insuring film stars, etc., against injury and illness. Pat found herself a regular cinema-goer. Whilst at school Pat also became proficient in dress making, which stood her in good stead for later life when she made our children clothes.

At 14 she worked weekends and holidays for Woolworths in their canteen, cooking meals for the staff as well as working on the biscuit counter.

She left school with 4 GCEs, 5 CSEs grade 1, RSA Pitman's shorthand typing and other qualifications.

Her first job was as secretary to Mr Dent at JM Dents book publishers. Pat later left this job to go temping as it paid more as she was already saving hard to go to North America with her friend Janice. The temping jobs resulted in her being employed at Senate House for the University of London, Strand Electric theatre lighting and the MOD. The latter required her to sign the official secrets act. In her roles at these establishments she gathered a great deal of knowledge and experience in office procedures and administration.

I met Pat in February 1966. We thought ourselves budding thespians and joined a local theatre group. One of Pat's first roles was a French maid. How could I resist that smile, laughing eyes and wicked sense of humour! We were engaged in 1967. Shortly after, I was accepted into the police force. On completion of my police training, Pat and Janice, both 19 years old, left for America via Iceland for their gap year before gap years became the thing to do. They were confident and independent women. They had obtained sponsorship from Pat's Scottish mother's sister and aunt, both of whom were domiciled in the USA. The girls had obtained visas and work permits, undergone medicals and had their photographs and fingerprints taken.

In America, they both had a love for travel and adventure, but this required funding. They obtained jobs as secretaries in All State Insurance. In the evenings and on weekends they worked in a Jewish restaurant as waitresses and cooks. Here they learnt to cook Kosher food, lox(salmon) and beagles. Most weekends they were either waitresses at Bar Mitzvahs or giving non-alcoholic drinks out at company picnics in the local park.

Having raised sufficient funds, they toured America by purchasing a $99 ticket for 99 days travel. They visited Montreal, Niagara Falls, Heads of the Presidents, Yellowstone National Park, Grand Canyon, Yosemite, Las Vegas, Reno, the Alamo and San Francisco. Here they ran out of funds and obtained more work as temps with shorthand and typing. Refuelled with funds they continued their travels to Los Angeles, visiting Disneyland and the newly installed Queen Mary ship which was going to be run as a hotel. They also visited Hollywood Boulevard and Universal Studios.

By the time Pat was ready to return home, they had been to 25 of the 50 American states as well as visiting Mexico and Canada. In December 1968, Pat finally left New York to cross the Atlantic on the last crossing of Cunard's Queen Elizabeth. The crossing coincided with the tail wind of a hurricane!

Having saved sufficient money for a mortgage, we married in October 1969 and purchased our first house in Orpington, Kent. Pat secured work at a computer company called SCICON, as a PA to the company secretary.

Our first daughter was born in 1974 and our second daughter, Cathryn, was born in 1977. When the girls both went to school, Pat obtained part time work for an Estate Agents - Alan De Maid, learning the intricacies of arranging the sales and purchases of property. At home, Pat undertook making the girls' clothing as well as becoming a Snowy Owl, later progressing to a Brown Owl, in the local Brownie pack. The love of guiding continued even when the girls were older. Pat became a District Governor for the guides. Whilst in that role, she re-wrote the Quartermasters guide book for the guiding movement, which is still used today.

By now we had moved to Sevenoaks in Kent. The girls were at senior school and Pat worked for a company called Coffee Call and the homemade cake company. Here she learnt how to blend and roast coffee beans, as well as expanding the company's sales of cakes to organisations such as the National Trust and local wineries.

She then became employed as the Catering Supervisor at Road Chef motorway services. She had by now passed several levels of food hygiene examinations. Later she was asked to run the newly built motel for them. This motorway motel had 54 rooms and was full virtually every day, invariably with one night stays. It proved to be one of the busiest in Europe at the time.

When I was nearing retirement, Pat attended a cookery and business course run by a Mr Savoury who made Princess Diana's and Prince Charles' wedding cake. This course was highly competitive and Pat passed out as top student.

On my retirement from the police force, Pat and I purchased the Fuchsia Tea Rooms in Lee. Pat used all her knowledge, experience, skills and common sense to make this tea room highly successful. We made homemade cakes, soups and sandwiches of various types. She had all our crockery made especially for us with fuchsia flowers on them. We sold over 16,000 scones in a season, obviously, with cream and jam. In the latter years Pat sold Sunday roasts and ran the café as a bistro in the evening.

The buildings next door became holiday cottages and were run as a separate business. Pat provided meals for new arrivals if they requested them. We sold the tea room and holiday lets in 2005 and retired to Lincombe.

We continued to travel and watch our children and their families grow. Cathryn had married Richard in 2003 and Helen had married Andy in 2012. We have four wonderful grandchildren, two boys and two girls. During lockdown Pat gave the girls cookery lessons over WhatsApp. They called it 'Cooking with Nana'. During our time in the villages, Pat became a supporter and trustee of Ilfracombe Museum and President of Lee WI. She was also secretary to West Down WI.

Pat was diagnosed with breast cancer in February 2021 and, after breast surgery, chemotherapy and radiotherapy, she was given the all clear in April 2022, only to find, in June 2022, it had spread to her bones and liver. Despite bravely and desperately fighting the cancer, she finally succumbed on 5th August 2022 aged 73.

Pat's love of travel saw her visit 73 countries (one for every year of her life). There were only four states in America she had not visited. She was clever, resourceful and full of common sense. She loved her family and brought our girls up to be honest, hard working and to have a self belief in their ability to achieve whatever wanted to be or do. For me, Pat was a wonderful wife and mother and will be missed beyond any words can express.

Tony Seymour

Ken Huxtable

1931 - 2022

Those of us who have lived in the village for some time will remember Ken Huxtable who lived in the village for many years and who has died recently at the age of 91. His family have provided some information of a very full and interesting life.

Ken spent his schooldays in Chumleigh, but, following the death of his father in a tractor accident in 1947, the family moved to a 'tied house' in Atherington as the only way of keeping the large family together. But, in 1955, Ken joined the RAF and served for 31 years with postings all over the world.

In 1958, on a late night journey home from London on 'the Midnight Paper Train', he met Elaine who was also travelling to North Devon. After an engagement, they married and Wendy was born in Gibraltar in 1964 and Susan at Scampton (the original home of the Dam Busters squadron) in 1970.

1982 saw Ken named in the Queen's New Year's Honours List with the award of the British Empire Medal in recognition of his skilled work with training RAF police dogs. The same year he was posted to Germany and received his medal from the British Ambassador in Bonn. His last posting was to St Mawgan and he retired from the RAF in 1986. However, his military work was far from over. He was asked to join the Sultan of Oman's Air Force with the task of taking charge of the Oman Air Force police dog training school which he did successfully until 1992. He also spent six months in Brunei in 1995/96 training security guards for the Brunei Royal Family.

Ken finally gave up military work and settled back to rural life in Lee where he and Elaine lived at Valley View. They both took an active part in village life and every year Ken produced a whole variety of delicious vegetables from his cliff top garden. He also kept up his interest in livestock farming helping out with shepherding work with some local farmers as well as looking after a few sheep of his own. During this time he became a grandfather to four grandchildren.

Ken and Elaine moved to Sleights in North Yorkshire in 2002. Ken continued to be involved with the community, including being involved with Probus, RAFA, RAFA association, and a volunteer at the James Cook Museum in Whitby which he continued until recently. He also made sure he had a vegetable patch in the garden!

Ken and Elaine celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary in 2010 and their Diamond in 2020, followed by Ken's 90th birthday a year later. He was very active until just two weeks before he died enjoying the role of elder brother to his family.

LEE MEMORIAL HALL 100 CLUB

If you would like to join our 100 club lottery we still have a few numbers available to take us up to our target of 100 subscribers! The draw takes place at the end of each month with the chance to win the top prize of £100, two chances to win £50 or two chances to win £25 all for a small donation of £5 a month, normally with 50% of the total subscriptions being used as prizes and 50% to Hall funds. For a standing order form and the rules in detail please visit our website www.leememorialhall.co.uk and click on the menu. We would love to hear from you!

CAN YOU SPARE A LITTLE TIME?

The village hall trustees are looking for someone to take on the job of Bookings Secretary. Martin Johncock is standing down from the committee this year and we will need someone to replace him as Bookings Secretary although you would not need to become a hall trustee.

It involves being the contact for anyone wanting to book the hall, for example for parties and meetings or as a wedding venue. Some weeks there isn't much happening, others it's busier. It's really needing to keep on top of it and dealing with enquiries quickly. The regular bookings are generally straightforward and there is a template for replies for most eventualities that are amended to suit enquiries.

We have our hall website, from which we receive enquiries and hirers can book online. Payment is generally made direct so there is no handling of money involved.

If you have some spare time we would love to hear from you - please email leevillagehall@gmail.com
